SERVICE

According to our research, the majority of restaurant fires originate from the kitchen cooking appliances and flare into the kitchen exhaust system.

We found that by keeping these systems working at their best and regular maintenance of a restaurant's kitchen exhaust system is one of the primary defences against fire hazards wherein they will evacuate the smoke and grease out of the building & produce a cleaner, cooler kitchen and better working environment for staff. Reaching almost 75 Kitchens here with cleaning service, Gilli Solutions plays the below way-
